ABOUT ME

Laryssa Vachon is a singer-songwriter currently based in Vancouver, BC. With over a decade of classical music training and a love for sad songs, she has currently released a total of 6 independent singles and been featured as a vocalist on 17 collaborations with artists and producers from around the world. Her Alternative/Indie Pop style features angelic vocals and honest, unapologetic lyrics to authentically relate to every audience. Currently, she is writing songs for a future EP, performing originals and covers with her ukulele, and taking every opportunity to connect with the vibrant local music community.
